4th June 2020

Dear Parents,

Plans for school reopening

Following the announcement yesterday by Education Minister, Kirsty Williams, schools across Wales will reopen for pupils on 29th June. This date will begin a phased operation allowing pupils to 'Check in, catch up and prepare for summer and September' allowing some degree of face-to-face contact with teachers to support online learning at home.

The reopening of schools does not signify returning to pre-Covid days – there will be restrictions and precautions and we await the detailed guidance from the Welsh Government next week. I would like to assure you that we will be working closely with NPTCBC officers and colleagues from other schools to ensure a coordinated and consistent approach.

In order to reduce the number of adults and pupils your child/children come into contact with we will be putting pupils into set groups described as 'bubbles' or 'pods' by the media. However, strict social distancing will be maintained in these groups. We will also send out information explaining in detail how we intend on reopening and would like to gather the opinions of pupils and parents through a survey and factor this into our planning.

As always, I would like to thank you for your continued support. Take care.

Mr David Cole
